Today's Sermon Outline

The Ultimate Victory
John 11:32-44

Not according to man's expectation but God's plan
When Jesus overcame death, He did not do it in the way people expected. He came to the family of the dead man four days after the man was dead and buried. He seemed to have come there too late to do anything for the dead man. Why did He not come to Lazarus before he died? Why did He delay? People there wondered why Jesus came so late after everything was over.
When you need God's help desperately, and pray to God earnestly for His help, God may not answer your prayer as you expect. Everything may seem to be over. Then why does God not help you as you expect? Jesus said that the reason He delayed help was to let them see the glory of God. While Jesus delayed, Jesus followed God's plan. God's plan was to reveal His glory by doing something impossible by man's standards. To follow God's plan, Jesus delayed. And by God's plan, it was not over. Even if everything is over by our understanding, it is not over in God's plan. So even if it seems everything is over, just believe, that God has a plan for you to give Him glory.

Through God's sympathy with our sorrow and pain
When tragic things happen, when the power of death hits our lives, why can we not see help from God? Does He not know our pain? Does He not understand our sorrow? Does He really care?
Yes! He understands and cares. How? By sharing our sorrow and pain. When Jesus saw the dead man's sister and the people weeping in deep sorrow over her brother's death, Jesus also wept. Jesus did not weep over the dead man. He knew that in a few minutes the weeping crowd would rejoice by seeing the dead man's resurrection. So He did not weep for the dead man. He was weeping for the family and for the people there. He wept because He felt their sorrow.

Sometimes we feel that Jesus is doing nothing for us although we believe in Him. But Jesus shows us here that He is always doing something for us. He always shares our sorrows and pains. Jesus weeps when we weep. Jesus Himself knows about deep sorrow from His own life (Isaiah 53:3). God sympathizes with our pains and sorrows. By doing so, God lets us approach His throne of grace with confidence, and brings us victory over death (Hebrews 4:15,16).

With the power of God's word
After weeping with those who wept, Jesus told them to take away the stone which covered the tomb. Beyond the stone, there was only the corpse of a dead man. People didn't understand why Jesus told them to take away the stone, but they obeyed Jesus' word and took away the stone from the tomb. And, Jesus prayed and called in a loud voice: "Lazarus, come out!" And the dead man came out alive from the tomb. Jesus raised the man from the dead by just saying three words. The power which brings victory over death is in the word of Jesus. Before you seek Jesus' miraculous help, seek His word.
Here, we also can see that there is a remarkable combination of divine power and human effort at work in miracles. Jesus could have raised the dead man from the dead without man's help. But Jesus performed His miracles when people obeyed His word with action.
You may have a dead Lazarus today in your life and may have given up all hope. But Jesus is saying to you: Have hope against all hope and believe that I will raise it up again. Keep obeying my words.

Application questions
1. When God does not answer your prayer as you expect, what does God want you to learn?
2. Read Isaiah 53:3 and Hebrews 4:15-16 and meditate on how mercifully God cares for you even if you feel He does not care.
3. Why do you have to seek God's word first when you need God's miraculous help?
